From old vines in five districts, fermented with submerged cap, matured in French oak (32% new) for 15 months. Complex and rich from the first whiff, it doesn't waste a single berry of this great vintage. So much power, such elegance.

A wine with instant appeal. Big, rich and fleshy with appropriate savoury oak tones. I adore the plush nature of the palate and the generosity of the fruit. It is a big and beautiful wine that has grace and composure. Extremely well-made.

Vibrant, and proud. This opaque wine opens with a healthy dose of oak, with a brooding core of fruit releasing teases of tapenade and cinnamon. Oak-derived spice sings in harmony with ripe fruit, freshened by a red berry, dried cranberry acidity. It's young, but showing lovely balance and latent class.
