

J O H N
D U V A L
W I N E S

2015 PLEXUS SGM

REVIEWS

94 points, James Halliday, 2018 Halliday Wine Companion

Richly robed in luscious fruits supported by gentle tannins and a dab of oak. It is well made (of course) and is strongly Barossan in temperament.

93 points, Mike Bennie, The Wine Front, July 2017

Reserved sweet-berried fruit scents, faint nougat, cedar, liquorice, undergrowth. Attractive set up. Medium weight, fruit forward, fine ribbons of tannin, bright acidity. This has such deliciousness to it. Lighter shade of Barossa in a way, fine feeling, but full flavoured, with crisp edges and a fresh finish. Indeed, it's probably a bit light on for stalwarts of true blue Barossa red wines, but it is very good in its own way.

92 points, Huon Hooke, huonhooke.com, August 2017

Deep red colour with a tint of purple and quite a lot of oak to sniff, together with smoke, char, toast and a subtle trace of spice. The palate is medium to full-bodied and nicely smooth-textured, notwithstanding ample tannins. The style is savoury and drying, with a clean, extended finish.

John and Tim Duval

